FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

King County Assessor Lloyd Hara to host Town Hall Meeting in Clyde Hill, Washington

KING COUNTY – King County Assessor Lloyd Hara and the City of Clyde Hill will host a town hall meeting on Wednesday, August 14 from 6:30 PM to 8:00 PM to discuss property valuations, taxes and the services that the Department of Assessments provides to assist property owners from Clyde Hill, Hunts Point, Yarrow Point and Medina. The meeting, which is open to the public, will take place at the Clyde Hill City Hall (9605 NE 24th St, Clyde Hill, WA 98004).

This town hall will be an opportunity for the residents to learn more about their property assessments and values, senior and disabled exemptions, online services and the appeals process. Clyde Hill Mayor George Martin will join King County Assessor Lloyd Hara and representatives from the Board of Equalization and Tax Advisor Office.

Property taxes are mixed in King County for 2013, with property values and property taxes down for many. However, some property owners will see their property values decline while their property taxes increase, and other property owners will see both their property values increase and property taxes increase.

"We are beginning to see a recovery in the housing market in King County," said King County Assessor Lloyd Hara. "Though property values continue to decline in selected areas, there are also a number of areas where property values are increasing, including in the City of Seattle and the Eastside."
